Why This PD?

Too often, CTE teachers are evaluated with rubrics designed for core academic classrooms. The result: feedback that misses the mark. Teachers feel unsupported, and administrators feel uncertain.

This interactive workshop will help school leaders understand the unique dynamics of CTE programs and provide them with tools to observe, evaluate, and support CTE teachers with confidence.

What You'll Learn

- ✓ How to recognize quality teaching in CTE labs and shops
- ✓ Questions to ask before and after an observation
- ✓ Strategies for coaching without being a content expert
- ✓ Practical tools: Observation Guide, Safety Checklist, Evaluation Rubric
- ✓ Ways to support scheduling, program promotion, and Perkins funding use

Agenda Highlights

- Welcome & Hands-On Icebreaker: Experience CTE from the inside
- Inside the CTE Classroom: Why projects ≠ all the work
- Observation & Evaluation Toolkit: HOW, WHO, WHY of CTE instruction
- Career Connections Coffee: Gallery walk of regional industry projects
- Supporting Beyond Evaluation: Scheduling, lab equity, professional learning
- Roundtable Conversations: Administrators + teachers in dialogue

Who should attend?

- Principals, assistant principals, and central office leaders
- Supervisors and evaluators of CTE staff
- Curriculum and instructional leaders
